Fields being considered for county board seat

Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields is one of six people mentioned as a possible successor to fill the Lake County Board District 4 seat left vacant by the death of Harry Robin.

Robin died of a gunshot wound to the chest in an apparent suicide Nov. 19.

Fields said he would "definitely consider" filling Robin's term if asked.

The Lake County board chairman will make the appointment to fill the unexpired term to December, 1980.

The new board chairman will be elected by the county board on Dec. 4. Robin was county board chairman.

Candidates for the seat are Wauconda Supervisor Jerry Beyer; Robert Fagan of Ingleside; Frank Meyer, former Fox Lake Police Chief; Donna Litwiler of Ingleside, secretary of the Lake County Republican Federation and Doug MacGillis, Round Lake.

Fields said he does not know at this time whether he will seek the seat in the 1980 election.

Countdown to begin Dec. 3 for turkey contest

With the countdown to Christmas now under way, the Retail Committee of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry will begin its Let's Talk Turkey in Antioch Christmas promotion to be held from Dec. 3-21.

Participating Antioch merchants will be giving away one turkey each. Winners will be announced Dec. 22.

Shoppers may enter as many times as they wish at any store belonging to the Chamber, said Retail Committee Chairman Lois Clark. Store owners and employees are not eligible to participate, she added.

"This is the first year that the turkey promotion is being held," Ms. Clark said, inviting shoppers to take a few minutes to participate.

Chamber recommends 1 way traffic downtown

by JANE POLZIN

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry recommended a one-way traffic proposal as an effort to solve the "serious traffic and parking problem in Antioch" during the second public hearing concerning forming a special taxing district for downtown improvements.

The Chamber also recommended that proposed special taxing districts number one and two be consolidated into one district and "acted on as one project to best handle the future needs of the village."

In a letter to Mayor Michael J. Haley, Chamber President William C. Bishoff wrote that the best method of resolving some or all of the business district's problems would be a one-way traffic pattern as proposed in plan number three, withholding the proposed Depot St. extension.

THE TRAFFIC PATTERN was one of three plans presented at the first public hearing by village officials and traffic safety engineers Oct. 29.

The Chamber recommended the consolidation "due to the related problems of the special taxing districts," Bishoff wrote.

"We recognize that none of the three funding proposals submitted to date appear to satisfy everyone," he continued.

"ON THE OTHER hand, this project is so urgently needed that we feel compelled to encourage our village board to proceed with it by utilizing the best funding vehicle finally available to resolve the problem.

"Based on the letter and communications from members of the Chamber of Commerce," the village board is going to examine the possibility of combining the special taxing districts and the technical problems involved, the mayor said.

"At this point, nothing has been changed," he told the approximately 80 people who attended the Nov. 26 hearing.

After announcing his intention to continue the hearing Jan. 28, he entertained questions from the public.

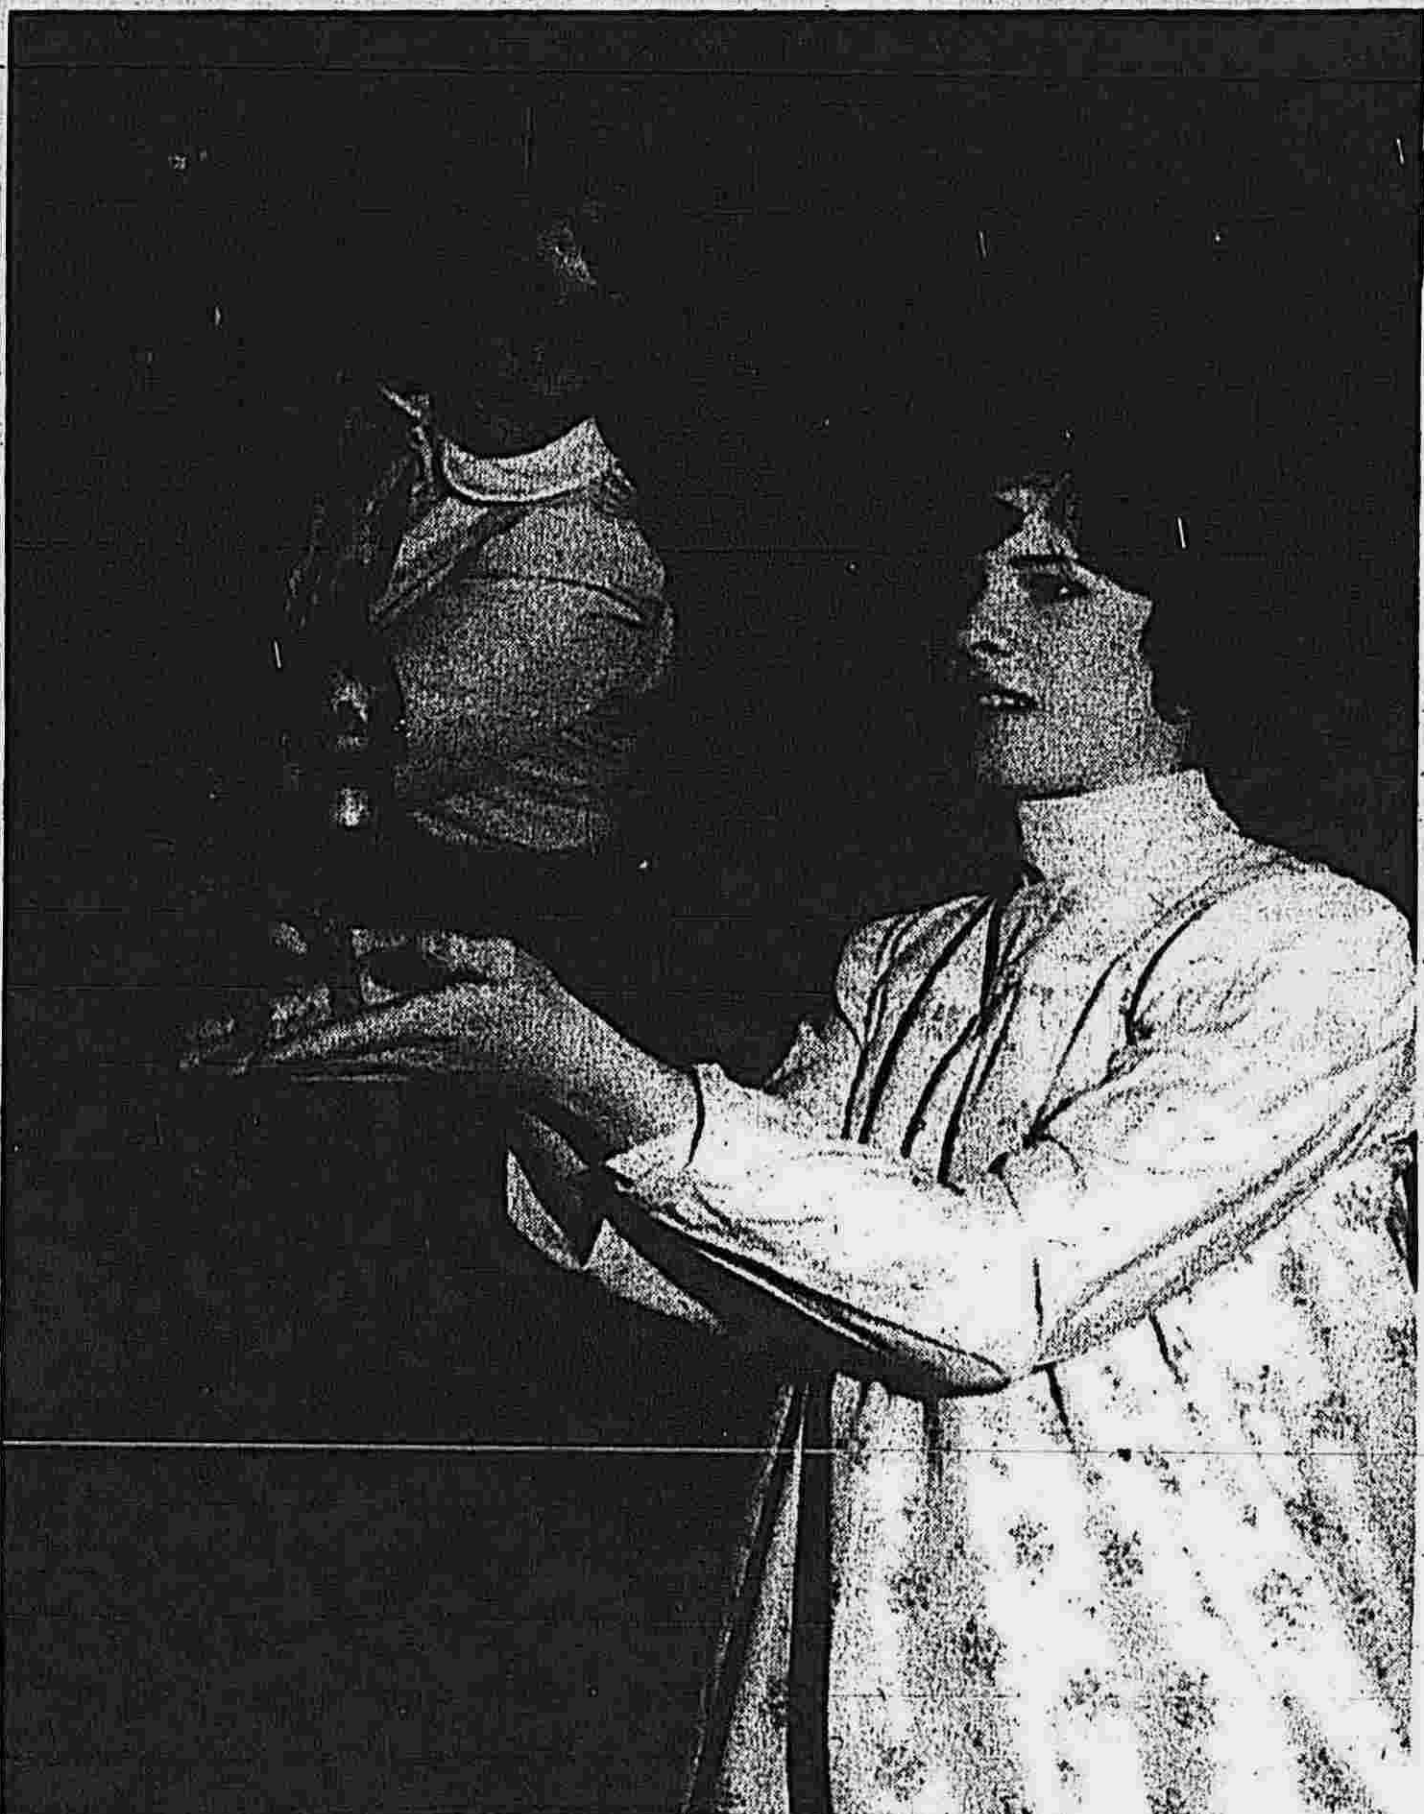

Eileen Lewin, a resident and merchant on Hillside St., asked whether it was feasible to have all residents pay for the improvements.

"NOT WITHOUT a referendum," Haley replied.

Antioch resident Richard J. Koenig, also of Hillside St., said the proposal "should come to a referendum."

The public supports the village through motor vehicle and sales tax revenue and Antioch is one of the "healthiest villages in the area," he said.

If the public does not show its support through passing the referendum, the project should be dropped, he said. That statement was met with applause from the audience.

Chamber discusses special taxing district

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry discussed the business district's parking and traffic problems to determine the Chamber's position on the issue at a general membership meeting.

Representatives from Barton-Aschman Associates, the firm hired by the village to conduct a traffic safety survey, presented three traffic pattern alternatives in an effort to solve the problems.

The three plans were, first of all, to basically leave the traffic pattern the same way; to leave traffic pattern the same way with an extension of Depot St. from Main to Hillside Sts. and a one-way street system through downtown.

"There is physically not enough capacity to handle traffic flow," said Neil Kenig, vice president of the company.

FOLLOWING THE presentation, Mayor Michael J. Haley fielded questions from the membership concerning the formation of special taxing district number one.

"Unless there is some response and some affirmative response, I think the project is a dead horse," he continued.

As to the question of a referendum, "I don't think it would pass," the mayor said.

"I challenge you to take these questions to the people affected," said Chamber member Jay Dziki. "I resent that the Chamber of Commerce offers to take a position to cover someone else financially," he said, adding that he was not against the downtown improvements.

"I THINK IT'S a community effort and the whole community should pay for it," he concluded.

Chamber member Pete Picard said, "This town is going to struggle and face hard competition from outside shopping centers."

First, he added, he would like to see the ramifications of the proposals for parking.

"The best way to go is a total price tag. It sounds like we don't have that yet."

Sharon Simon, Chamber member, said the business district cannot "keep taking on the financial responsibility of the village."

According to Chamber member Bill Patterson, who said he has been gathering information about shopping projections into the 1980's, people will be returning downtown to shop.

"We have the opportunity to do something about it now," he said. "The investment for this whole thing could be pennies for what it will be in the future."

Mailgram Popularity Is Up

Mailgram service, which enables mailers in Lake County to reach any point in the United States and Canada overnight, is becoming increasingly popular with residents and businesses who require delivery less expensive than a telegram and faster than a letter. In Canada, this same service is called Telepost.

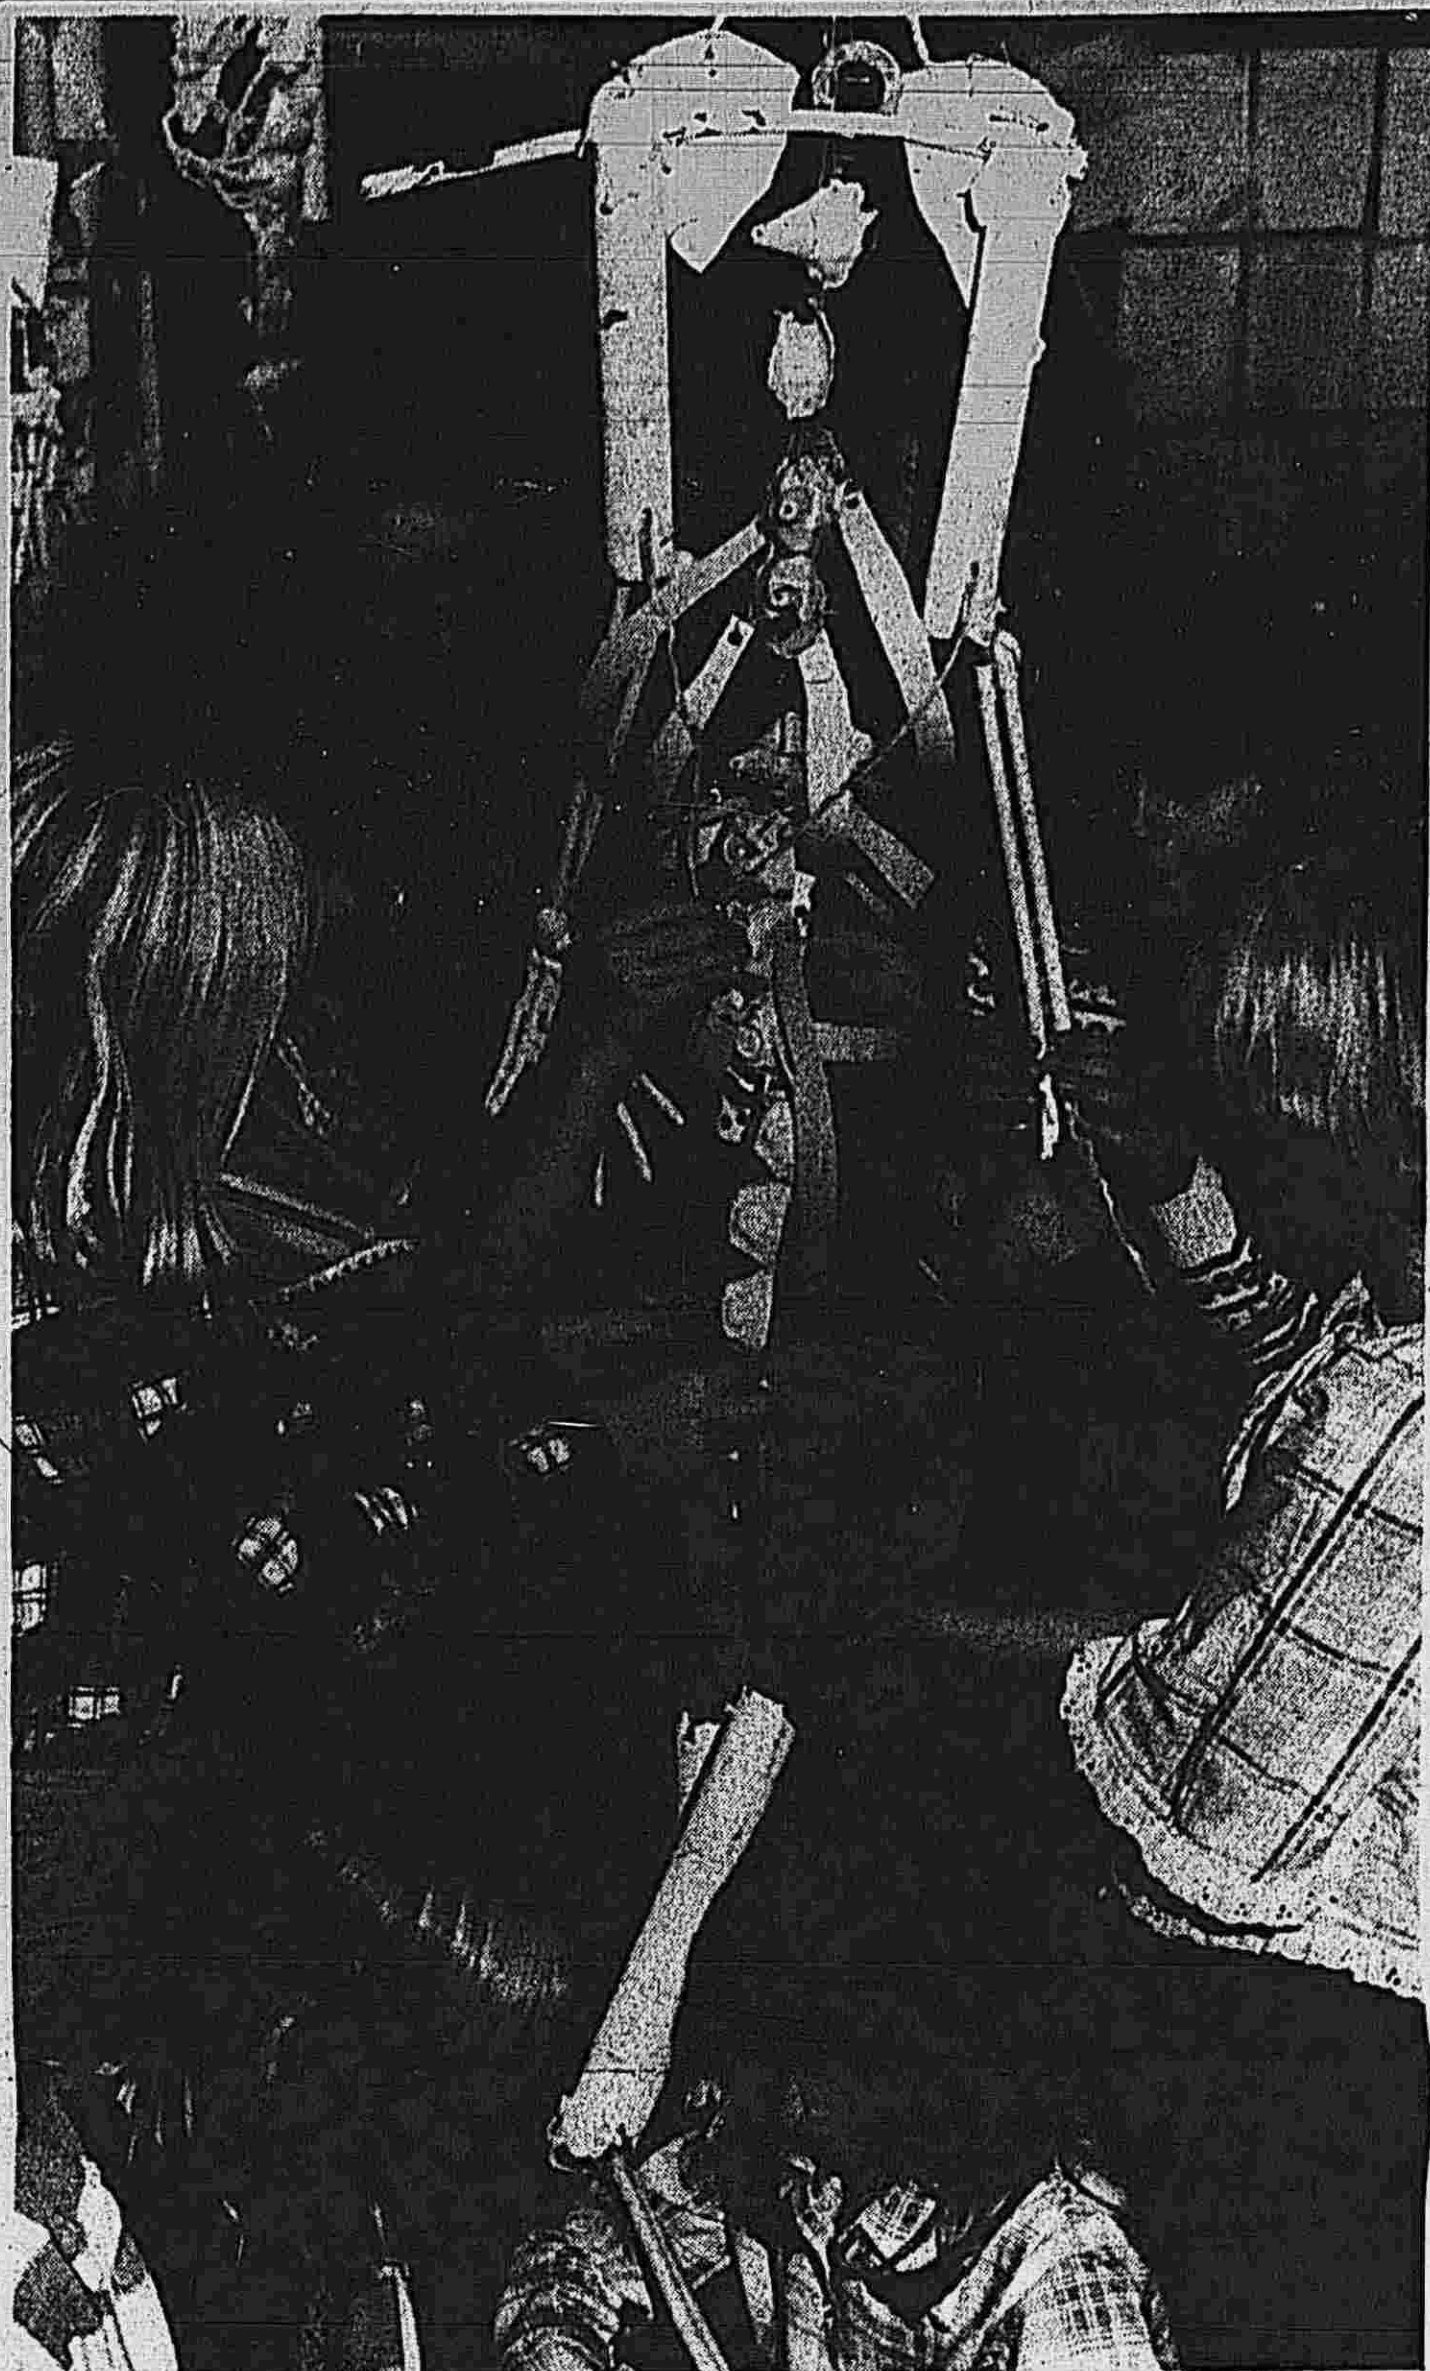

Mailgram is a joint venture between Western Union and the U.S. Postal Service. It has grown dramatically since its introduction in 1970 when 70,000 messages were sent. During fiscal year which ended Sept. 30, a record 37,091,000 mailgrams were delivered.

Postmasters said mailgrams have about the same impact as telegrams for greetings and congratulations, sales promotions, new product announcements, price changes, sales force communications and fund raising.

Mailgrams move through Western Union's electronic transmission network to teleprinter terminals strategically located in 141 U.S. and 39 Canadian postal installations. Messages entered by 7 p.m. local time are delivered by letter carrier the next business day.

Postmaster Ernie Plotz said the charge for sending a mailgram by telephone is $2.95 for the first 100 words.

A BONE TO PICK — Students in Mrs. Ellen Eisenhower's fifth grade class at Antioch Grade School created skeletons in an attempt to understand the bone unit in science. The projects took about a month to complete, and the grade schoolers were tested and found they knew the names of each bone in the human body. The science program in the grade school system will be under evaluation this year and new materials will be obtained.

Women of Moose plan for Christmas

by ANITA WISNIEWSKI
Senior Regent Mary Galster welcomed 70 members and guests to the Nov. 15 meeting. It was a special open enrollment in honor of Junior Graduate Regent Judith Kelly and the class consisted of one candidate, Peggy Stamper sponsored by Louise Imbergia.

We were honored to have the following officer's stations filled by guest Junior Graduate Regents (Green Cap co-workers). Senior Regent was filled by Sue Sharp from Wauconda, Junior Graduate Regent was filled by Lillian Tranellis from Fox Lake and Junior Regent was filled by Jeanette Zebrowski from Zion-Benton.

Guest Speaker for the evening was Past Grand Council Member Marge Walsh from Chicago 129. As always, Ms. Walsh was a warm and informative speaker. During her talk she told us a little about the new ritual book that is now in the process of being printed. Judith was surprised by a card of congratulations from her parents, Art and Elizabeth Andersen, now residing in Florida.

The chapter presented Ms. Kelly with a love gift. It consisted of a hand-made inscribed ceramic planter filled with ivy, crocheted carnations and money leaves, suspended from a hand-made macrame plant hanger. Co-worker Judith has been invited to fill the Junior Regent station at Wauconda on Sunday, Dec. 2. She invites anyone who wishes to attend with her, to please contact her.

Mark your calendars, Thursday, Dec. 13, is the annual chapter Christmas party, with cocktails at 6:30 and dinner at 7 p.m. Co-workers are invited to bring side dishes.

Last chance here for Miracle Worker

Only two more chances remain to see the PM&L production of William Gibson's engaging play, "The Miracle Worker."

The final performances will be given this Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St. in Antioch. Curtain time for both shows is 8:30 p.m., and reservations can be made by calling 395-3055.

Critics and audiences received "The Miracle Worker" warmly and enthusiastically during the last two weekends, a spokesman said. These theater-goers were moved especially by the portrayals by Debbie Beno of Wildwood as Helen Keller, the blind deaf-mute and by Lyn Kessie of Richmond as Annie Sullivan, Helen's miracle-working teacher, he added.

The PM&L production is directed by Pam Hunley.

To avoid disappointment, be sure to be at the PM&L Theatre no later than 8:15 of the night you plan to see the show, he said.

WHERE'S THE MAN IN THE RED SUIT? — A crowd of about 70 spent a few minutes Saturday afternoon waiting for Santa along Main St. and they weren't disappointed. The jolly old elf arrived about 12:10 p.m. by firetruck.

Sequoits slam dunk to take tourney second

Antioch Community High School's Sequoit Basketball Team came in second in four-team round robin competition.

Only Barrington beat Antioch with three wins and no losses. The Sequoits were two and one followed by Libertyville, which was one and two and Elgin-Larkin, which lost three.

The Sequoits "gained an awful lot of experience" during the competition, despite the fact they are a young team, said Antioch Head Coach Roger Andrews. They also did "a good job playing under pressure."

"They learned they could play with quick kids as well as big kids," he added.

The team's rebounding ability "looks strong, which is tremendously encouraging," Andrews commented.

In a "very close" game against Barrington, Antioch "played extremely well...and we stayed right with them all the way," he said, adding that strong rebounding in particular helped keep the score close in the 73-72 loss to Barrington.

At the first quarter, the game was tied at 19, and the score at the end of the half was 35 all.

The Sequoits took a small lead in the third quarter 54-48 and in the fourth Barrington rallied to edge Antioch by one point.

With 30 seconds to go, Antioch led 72-71 and with six seconds remaining, Barrington's Mike Tomlinson was fouled, making both free throws to put Barrington ahead by one.

"Ron Nauman had an outstanding game and did an excellent job," Andrews said, adding that he made 24 points and 12 rebounds and "played well defensively."

Dee Maras "did a nice job for us on the boards and shot well," he added.

Mike Anderson was credited for doing "a good job as playmaker and running the offense."

In the Elgin-Larkin game, Antioch's win "was just a case of a gradual pull away," Andrews said, with the Sequoits increasing its lead each quarter to its 85-72 win.

"Ron Nauman was the center spoke of the whole wheel — offensively, defensively and on the boards," the coach said. Nauman scored 23 points.

Kurt Selak was also recognized for his good rebounding and scoring, with 18 points. Maras "grabbed 16 rebounds," which was "tops for both teams," he said.

"Rebounding was one of the big factors," according to the coach. "We were able to control the ball."

The Sequoits wrapped up the tournament with a game against Libertyville, challenging them with Antioch's 64-61 win.

Throughout the tournament, "all teams were basically quicker than we were," the coach noted. "Libertyville was quickest in the tournament and tended to control the tempo of the game in the first half."

The team's quickness, pressure and some of Antioch's mistakes got Libertyville off to a good start.

Antioch began to gain composure in the second half, with John Ploss tallying eight points in a row.

In the third quarter, Libertyville still managed to maintain a small edge and "we missed a few real good shots," Andrews said.

Playing a zone defense throughout the game, Libertyville began using a man-to-man defense with five and one-half minutes remaining, which "back-fired," he added, with Antioch scoring seven straight points to lead with four minutes remaining.

Libertyville quickly regained the lead 55-54 with 3:15 left on the clock with a three point play, followed by a three point lead for Antioch.

Mike Anderson was credited for his short jumper, "which was a critical shot for us," he added.

Two more free throws at the close of the game ended it in the Sequoit's favor.

"Nauman was a very dominating factor" with his 25 points, Andrews said, noting that he made 23, 24 and 25 points in the three games.

"He grabbed double figure rebounds in every game, too," he added.

Selak and Ploss were recognized for their defense and rebounding contributions.

Mike Pramshafer, a senior, "played a very solid, steady game," with Peter Weber playing "real well in a reserve capacity, as did Ploss," he added.

The Sequoits will meet their next challenge in a match against Grant at 8 p.m., Friday, Nov. 30 at ACHS.

SUNSET LAW

The Illinois Dept. of Registration and Education, which licenses and regulates certain professional and occupational groups, supports the new Sunset law which Gov. James Thompson signed recently. Department Director Joan G. Anderson said it is the intent of the new law that no profession or occupation shall be subject to the state's regulatory power unless the exercise of such power is necessary to protect the public health, safety or welfare from significant and discernible harm or damage. A newly-established committee will review licensing and regulatory functions and recommend continuance, modification or repeal of the requirements.

STABLE WORKSHOP

The University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service will conduct a workshop for stable managers (horse), Dec. 14, in the Rolling Meadows Extension Auditorium, 4200 West Euclid Ave., Rolling Meadows. Registration is at 1:30 p.m. with the afternoon session adjourning at 5:30 for dinner. The evening session will begin at 7 p.m. and end at 9 p.m. For more information, contact Bob Schmerbauch (312) 223-8627.

Sequoit wrestlers split

Antioch opened the wrestling season at Zion on Nov. 21 losing to Mundelein 35-20 and defeating the host ZeeBees 32-24.

"The football play-offs have delayed the start of wrestling season for some of the varsity and has curtailed practice by occupying three coaches but the wrestlers have responded tremendously," stated head coach Ted DeRousse.

"We will be a little behind at the start of the season, but we will be young this year and should finish strong. The success of the football team has contributed to our pride and will help us in the months ahead," he said.

At 98 lbs. Tad DeRousse, a freshman, started his varsity career with two first period pins.

At 105, Jim Harnish, a junior, lost to Mundelein's outstanding Terry Schaul, but came back to lose a close 7-3 decision to Ron DeLara.

At 112, Dave Unrein, senior, returns for his final year in fine form, with a fall over Mundelein's Chip Cancelli and beat Romeo DeLara 10-0.

At 119, John Wohlfiel, a sophomore, lost two decisions 4-0 to Mundelein and 14-0 to Zion.

At 126, Dan Larsen, junior, lost a close 6-4 decision to Mundelein's Paul Hyatt.

At 132, Rob Crowel, a senior, pinned Steve Johnson of Zion in 3:27.

At 126 and 132, Jon Gibson, a senior, returning for his final season looking great. He superiorly decided two good wrestlers in Zion's Travis Hudgins 13-0 and Mundelein's Mike Cancelli 14-1.

At 138, George Bessette, a freshman, lost to Mundelein's Mitch Knight 5-2 and superiorly decided Zion's John Cooper 13-0.

At 145, Mitch Lasco, a senior, lost two decisions 9-2 to Mundelein and a close 5-4 contest to Zion's Craig Knabel.

At 155, Bill Carney, a freshman, lost by a fall to Mundelein and a 10-4 decision to Zion.

At 167, John Filkey, a sophomore, lost two decisions 21-5 to Mundelein and 12-2 to Zion.

At 185, Ted Bessette, a junior, moving down from Heavyweight, where he lettered last year, very impressive in a 4-3 win over Mundelein's Neal Pinkowski and pinned Zion's Pete Cabellara.

Heavyweight Scott Buxton, a senior, met two outstanding heavyweights in his first varsity matches. He lost both by falls to Eric Johnson of Zion and State Qualifier Dave Dombkowski.

Gibson, Shaffer at WIU

Marvin Gibson, a freshman at Western Illinois University in Macomb, will be on the Leathernecks wrestling squad this winter along with Scott Schaffer, a senior.

Both are graduates of Antioch High School.

Gibson will be working at 142 lbs. with Schaffer at 118 or 126.

The Leathernecks were 4-7 in dual meets last season and placed 10th in the Midwest Classic and fifth in the Mid-Continent Conference Tournament.

Don Triveline is the Leathernecks head coach.

Antioch second graders tell about Thanksgiving

Following are some thoughts about Thanksgiving as written by second graders in Diane Loughlin's Antioch Grade School. All the children are seven years old.

by DEBRA WERTZ
Thanksgiving is on the 22nd. The pilgrims eat turkey and potatoes and corn and gravy to put on the potatoes.

by MARIA PORETT
When the pilgrims got off the Mayflower they found a new country and it was America.

by JULIA KLACZAK
At Thanksgiving we eat turkey and mashed potatoes and cranberries. Thanksgiving is a special holiday. We eat turkey too.

by CRAIG RENCH
Thanksgiving is a special day, that's when most people eat turkey and mashed potatoes and gravy. I think everybody knows that pilgrims do all the work.

by GARY ZUMSKI
Thanksgiving is a special day. It is good to eat turkey. Some people don't like turkey but a lot of people like turkey. Do you know some people who like turkey?

by STEPHEN GOETZELMAN
On Thanksgiving all the people eat turkey. The pilgrims had to do it by hand.

by LOREN BEAULIEU
I really think Thanksgiving is nice. But sometimes I don't know. Maybe I might have a party.

by JASON HAUSER
November is the time of the year when the Pilgrims discovered this land, then saw Indians. The Indians were good.

by LYNETTE CHRISTENSEN

Thanksgiving is a time of thankful prayers. We eat turkey, potatoes, corn and stuffing with gravy. Thanksgiving is when families get together to celebrate Thanksgiving.

by WENDY KOEHLER

I like Thanksgiving. It is my Granny's birthday this Thanksgiving. She is going to be 99-years-old. Pilgrims ate turkey and potatoes and gravy and corn and fish and berries and deer and squashes and pumpkins.

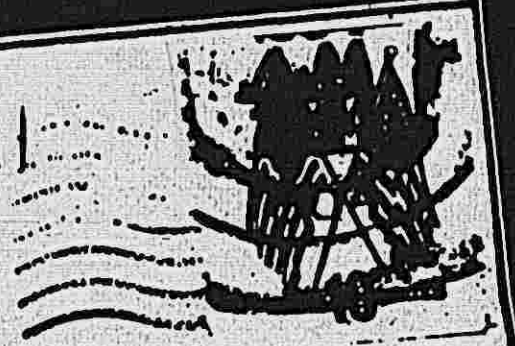

by MARCIE SCHESKIE
This is a Thanksgiving story. In November 1620 they came and many Pilgrims were sick. And some Pilgrims died. Indians greeted them when they got off the boat.

by MIKE CAIN
On Thanksgiving on 1620 they landed on that year. They ate meat and corn and bread and potatoes and good things. In winter a lot of pilgrims died because it was too cold.

Illinois Bell plans new privacy policy

A program to ensure the continued privacy of Bell System employee records through standardized practices will be implemented beginning Jan. 1, R.L. Humke, vice president - personnel for Illinois Bell, announced.

"All Bell companies currently have methods to safeguard personal information about employees," Humke noted, adding "This program will provide a consistent set of guidelines covering confidentiality of records as well as improving procedures for employees to review and, where appropriate, offer changes to those records."

"Our aim is to stay in the forefront of business organizations voluntarily undertaking to strengthen their practices relating to the confidentiality of employee records."

All company records containing personal information about employees will be held in confidence and properly safeguarded. Access to such information will be limited to those with a specific need to use the information in the regular performance of their jobs (e.g., payroll representatives);

The Bell program, which covers almost one million employees, reflects increased public and Congressional concern for individual privacy, and seeks to ensure that company practices pertaining to records containing personal information about employees are in line with the recommendations of the Federal Privacy Protection Study Commission.

In its report to the President and Congress, the privacy commission made recommendations which affect the recordkeeping practices of private employers. The commission said that business should have the opportunity to comply voluntarily with these recommendations — a position urged at AT&T and other major organizations such as the Business Roundtable, and recently endorsed by President Carter.

Here are the highlights of Bell's employee privacy program:

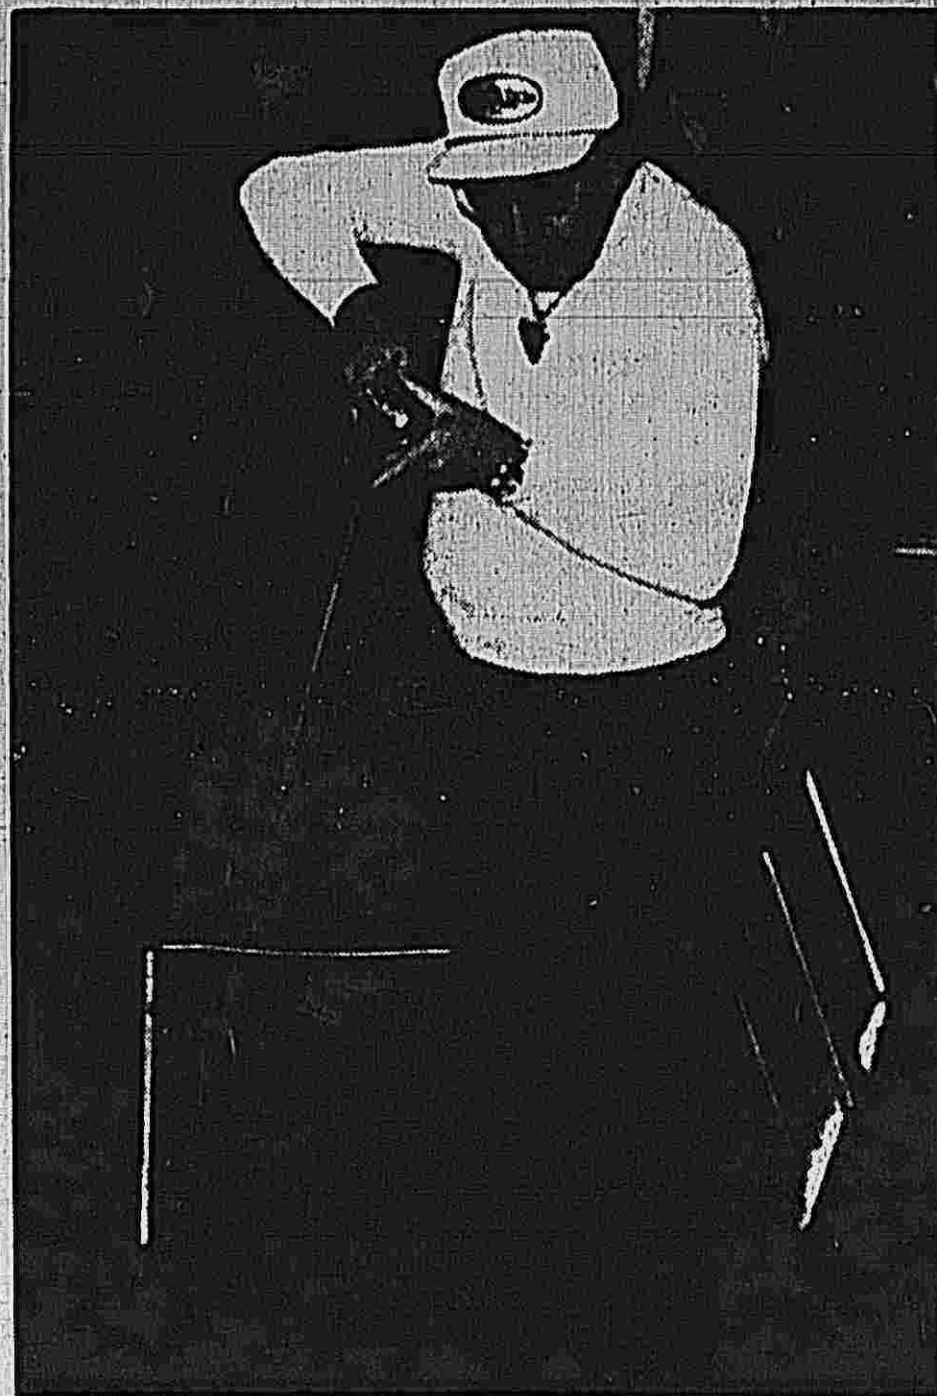

Personal information about employees is to be kept accurate, complete, relevant and up-to-date and, when feasible, obtained directly from employees;

Collection and retention of personal information about employees should only be for valid business, regulatory or legal requirements;

Bell companies will keep employees informed through appropriate employee media of the kinds of personal information kept about them in company records;

Upon request, employees may examine those records containing personal information about them and purpose corrections, additions, deletions or changes. Because of its sensitive nature, a very limited amount of personal information will generally not be made available for employee examination (e.g., certain personnel planning information);

Bell companies will not disclose personal information about their employees to any individual or entity outside the Bell System except under very limited conditions. For example, personal information may be released if an employee gives permission in writing, or to comply with valid legal process.

Antioch has two former Sequoia players for the Lancers with Roger Korjenek and Pete Ploss, both freshman, on the team.

The only other Lakeland area player on the team is Vernon Orlovski, a freshman.

The Lancers are coached by Dr. Bruce Smith with Chuck Schramm as his assistant.

Birds find home at sawmill

"America's Most Wanted Bird" has found its home at the Antioch Saw Mill through the efforts of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club. Two Trio-Musselman Purple Martin houses were installed at the saw mill site as part of the bicentennial dedication in 1978. This effort has resulted in the successful nesting of three pair of purple martins this year yielding 15 offspring. Since the martins return to their previous year's nesting place, a martin colony will be assured in future years at the saw mill.

Purple Martins are nature's way of controlling insects, particularly mosquitos, without the use of harmful pesticides, reports Henry Kaht, President of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club. The N.I.C.C. has promoted interest in the purple martin, resulting in the installation of 30 or more martin systems, all of which have been successful in the increase of the purple martin population in numbers well in excess of 100 birds.

Sequoia yearbook for sale

The Antioch Community High School Yearbook Staff would like to make available to any business, doctor's office or organization in our area, the opportunity to order the 1979-80 Sequoia ACHS school yearbook.

In numerous offices where people must wait, this book becomes a popular time-filler, a spokesman said.

The cost of the Sequoia is $10. It can be ordered from Kathy Brown, Yearbook Assistant at 395-1421.

CONCERT

The Antioch Upper Grade School will hold a Christmas concert at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 16 at the Intermediate School. The concert will feature the school's jazz, junior and senior bands. Admission is complementary.

SEQUOIA CANDIDATES

The senior class of Antioch Community High School nominated five candidates for the Sequoia Yearbook Queen. They are Jennifer Bellucci, Kathy Michalski, Beth Venn, Robin Anderson and Cindy Carney. The identity of the queen will be revealed when the yearbook is issued in the summer of 1980.

"Come See Our Display"

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Annie Mae was happy to see that our hometown boys from the State Bank of Antioch beat Lakeland Newspapers 35-0 in flag football.

THE FIRST ANNUAL Turkey Bowl game was played at Furlan's Dug Out in Trevor on Nov. 24.

I watched the game from the front seat of my 1943 Kaiser with a noted columnist from Lakeland Newspapers, the Rambler of Fox Lake.

We parked near the field so neither of us, both up in years you know, would have to brave the frosty cold night air.

THE RAMBLER was amazed with our boys' size, strength and speed, their ability and agility, their total concept of the game of football and their sportsmanship related to their victims.

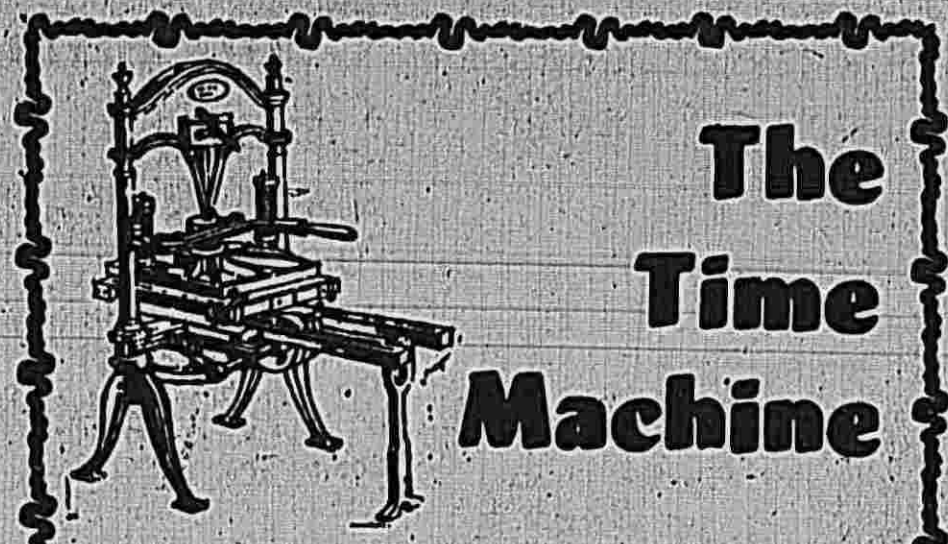

Oops! Old Annie Mae made a mistake in last week's column. It was in the item about Nancy and Peter Leider's new baby, Richard Donald. The proud parents are from Ingleside and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leider are from Antioch. The error is regretted.

Congratulations to John and Sandra Bonner on the birth of their second son, Brad Lee, who was born Nov. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Pedersen of Antioch and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bonner of Lake Villa are the little guy's pleased grandparents.

Both John and Sandra are graduates of Antioch Community High School. They now live in Paris, Ill.

Brad was welcomed at home by his brother Brent.

50 YEARS AGO: NOV. 28, 1929

Reports circulated here to the effect that Louis Lutz, proprietor of Maple Inn, had disappeared Friday night and had not as yet been located last night seem to have been without foundation, since the inn keeper was seen on the streets of Antioch yesterday.

D.H. Minto was re-elected president of the Poultry Club for the third time. Other officers are George Mecklenberg, C.L. Kutil, Bert Edwards and Harry Tillotson.

Will Runyard, recalling events in the days of old, declared that just 45 years ago Thanksgiving Day, he in company with six or seven of his Antioch boyhood friends, spent a good share of the holiday skating back and forth across Channel Lake, which was frozen sufficiently solid to permit their venturing out to the very center of it.

Commenting further, unappreciative of the reclame due one who has the privilege of recalling events which occurred that number of years ago, Runyard said that a few days prior to the Thanksgiving of 1884, the thermometer registered many degrees below the freezing point.

A railroad crew is at work at the Trevor Stock Yards constructing a 62 x 196 foot room to house the horse sales that are to be held there by the Wisconsin Horse and Cow Sales company beginning Feb. 7. These improvements with the recently-erected elevators have improved the Trevor Stock Yards very much.

The proposed Rte. 173 will in all probability be a realization. The new route will follow the present dirt road between Antioch and the lake as nearly as practical.

Cedar Lake School opened Monday morning as no new cases of diphtheria have resulted. Solon Jensen, who is sick with the disease, is doing nicely.

30 YEARS AGO: NOV. 24, 1949

Return of polio during the past week saw four new cases in the Antioch area, bringing to 10 the number of cases here and to 90 the number of cases in Lake County.

Coach Richard Scott, who makes his debut as coach of the Antioch Township High School Basketball Team, says the boys are primed to take Palatine. In his starting lineup will be Tom and Bernard Haviland, Pete Poulos, Bob Wilton, Harold Cardiff and Milford Stillson.

The October grand jury for Lake County has recommended that the board of supervisors immediately plan a new jail.

Santa Claus will make his appearance in Antioch Saturday afternoon, according to George and Helen Borovicka of Reeves Drugs. He informed them he would be coming down Main St. at 5 p.m. and will spend the rest of the day at their store. He also told them he will have something for each and all of his visitors and will have free coffee and cake for the parents and grownups.

10 YEARS AGO: NOV. 27, 1969

Judy Hevrdejs, Antioch, is one of 43 outstanding Illinois 4-H'ers going to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. The congress is the highlight of the 4-H year, and to be a delegate is the dream of every 4-H'er.

John Lear, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Lear, has been employed by the First National Bank in their management trainee program. A 1964 graduate of Antioch High School, Lear and his wife and 16-month old daughter live on Highland Ave.

Becky Beveroth plays Lucy and Robert Lindblad plays Amos Appleby in the PM&L production "Only An Orphan Girl."

Santa will arrive by helicopter in Antioch on Saturday. Some lucky boys and girls will get a ride on that helicopter too.

Robert W. Depke, chairman of Lake County Board of Supervisors and candidate for Lake County treasurer, chatted with Illinois Gov. Richard Ogilvie during a visit to Springfield.

Illinois Bell plans new privacy policy

A program to ensure the continued privacy of Bell System employee records through standardized practices will be implemented beginning Jan. 1, R.L. Humke, vice president - personnel for Illinois Bell, announced.

"All Bell companies currently have methods to safeguard personal information about employees," Humke noted, adding "This program will provide a consistent set of guidelines covering confidentiality of records as well as improving procedures for employees to review and, where appropriate, offer changes to those records."

"Our aim is to stay in the forefront of business organizations voluntarily undertaking to strengthen their practices relating to the confidentiality of employee records."

All company records containing personal information about employees will be held in confidence and properly safeguarded. Access to such information will be limited to those with a specific need to use the information in the regular performance of their jobs (e.g., payroll representatives);

The Bell program, which covers almost one million employees, reflects increased public and Congressional concern for individual privacy, and seeks to ensure that company practices pertaining to records containing personal information about employees are in line with the recommendations of the Federal Privacy Protection Study Commission.

In its report to the President and Congress, the privacy commission made recommendations which affect the recordkeeping practices of private employers. The commission said that business should have the opportunity to comply voluntarily with these recommendations — a position urged at AT&T and other major organizations such as the Business Roundtable, and recently endorsed by President Carter.

Here are the highlights of Bell's employee privacy program:

Personal information about employees is to be kept accurate, complete, relevant and up-to-date and, when feasible, obtained directly from employees;

Collection and retention of personal information about employees should only be for valid business, regulatory or legal requirements;

Bell companies will keep employees informed through appropriate employee media of the kinds of personal information kept about them in company records;

Upon request, employees may examine those records containing personal information about them and purpose corrections, additions, deletions or changes. Because of its sensitive nature, a very limited amount of personal information will generally not be made available for employee examination (e.g., certain personnel planning information);

Bell companies will not disclose personal information about their employees to any individual or entity outside the Bell System except under very limited conditions. For example, personal information may be released if an employee gives permission in writing, or to comply with valid legal process.

Birds find home at sawmill

"America's Most Wanted Bird" has found its home at the Antioch Saw Mill through the efforts of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club. Two Trio-Musselman Purple Martin houses were installed at the saw mill site as part of the bicentennial dedication in 1978. This effort has resulted in the successful nesting of three pair of purple martins this year yielding 15 offspring. Since the martins return to their previous year's nesting place, a martin colony will be assured in future years at the saw mill.

Purple Martins are nature's way of controlling insects, particularly mosquitos, without the use of harmful pesticides, reports Henry Kaht, President of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club. The N.I.C.C. has promoted interest in the purple martin, resulting in the installation of 30 or more martin systems, all of which have been successful in the increase of the purple martin population in numbers well in excess of 100 birds.

Sequoia yearbook for sale

The Antioch Community High School Yearbook Staff would like to make available to any business, doctor's office or organization in our area, the opportunity to order the 1979-80 Sequoia ACHS school yearbook.

In numerous offices where people must wait, this book becomes a popular time-filler, a spokesman said.

The cost of the Sequoia is $10. It can be ordered from Kathy Brown, Yearbook Assistant at 395-1421.

CONCERT

The Antioch Upper Grade School will hold a Christmas concert at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 16 at the Intermediate School. The concert will feature the school's jazz, junior and senior bands. Admission is complementary.

SEQUOIA CANDIDATES

The senior class of Antioch Community High School nominated five candidates for the Sequoia Yearbook Queen. They are Jennifer Bellucci, Kathy Michalski, Beth Venn, Robin Anderson and Cindy Carney. The identity of the queen will be revealed when the yearbook is issued in the summer of 1980.

"Come See Our Display"

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Annie Mae was happy to see that our hometown boys from the State Bank of Antioch beat Lakeland Newspapers 35-0 in flag football.

THE FIRST ANNUAL Turkey Bowl game was played at Furlan's Dug Out in Trevor on Nov. 24.

I watched the game from the front seat of my 1943 Kaiser with a noted columnist from Lakeland Newspapers, the Rambler of Fox Lake.

We parked near the field so neither of us, both up in years you know, would have to brave the frosty cold night air.

THE RAMBLER was amazed with our boys' size, strength and speed, their ability and agility, their total concept of the game of football and their sportsmanship related to their victims.

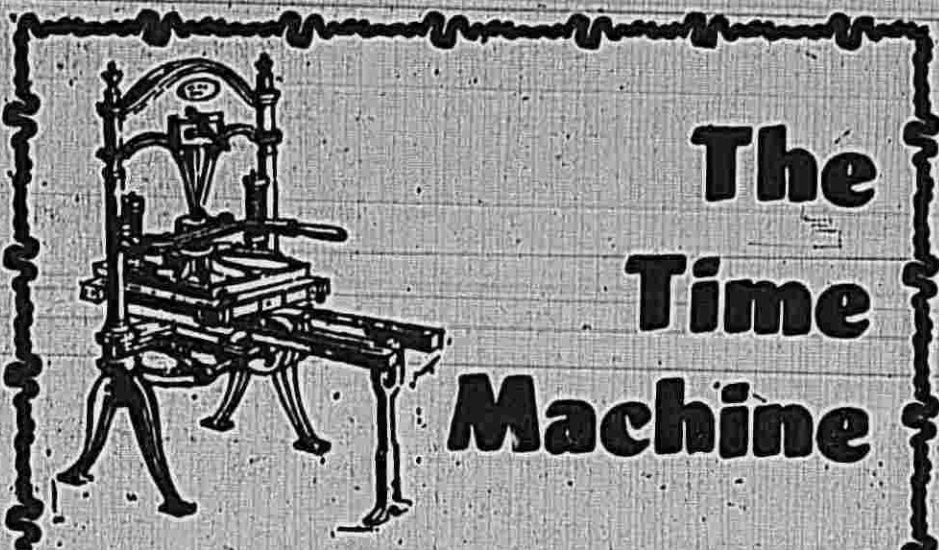

Oops! Old Annie Mae made a mistake in last week's column. It was in the item about Nancy and Peter Leider's new baby, Richard Donald. The proud parents are from Ingleside and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leider are from Antioch. The error is regretted.

Congratulations to John and Sandra Bonner on the birth of their second son, Brad Lee, who was born Nov. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Pedersen of Antioch and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bonner of Lake Villa are the little guy's pleased grandparents.

Both John and Sandra are graduates of Antioch Community High School. They now live in Paris, Ill.

Brad was welcomed at home by his brother Brent.

INSURANCE INFORMATION

Before the weather gets too bad, I am going to hire a tree trimmer to shape the large trees in my yard. However, several trees have very large branches which hang over or near the house. If there is damage from falling limbs, whose insurance will have to pay, mine or the trimmer's?

The person who professionally trims the trees should carry some form of General Liability insurance to cover bodily injury or property damage which could occur as a result of any negligence. However, if proper coverage does not exist, your insurance, providing it is a Broad Form or an All-Risk Coverage Policy will take care of the damage, less the deductible on your policy.
